DANVILLE FAIR GETS UNDER WAY OPEN CO-OP BRIGHT BELT SEASON

Gates Swing Open This Morning at 9; Weather Is Ideal

Morning Taken Up With Judging Exhibits—
Grounds Scene of Much Activity—Free
Attractions at 3 p. m. and 8 p. m. With Fireworks Display at 9 Tonight.

OPENING DAY AT THE FAIR

3:00 P. M.—First showing of the five free acts on the platform before the grand stand.
8:00 P. M.—Night performance of the free attractions.
9:00 P. M.—Fireworks display, featuring new aerial displays.
Admission prices, morning, afternoon and night, 50 cents; grand stand seats 25 cents, children 15 cents.

Judging of the hundreds of exhibits at the Danville Fair began this morning at ten o'clock or just one hour after the gates had been formally opened for the annual event. Despite the handicap caused by the late arrival of the amusements contained in the World at Home shows which pulled into Danville on the Danville and Western late yesterday evening, the Fair was well advanced towards completion when the gates were opened. At that hour all of the larger amusements which entail construction were up and scores of concessionaires were hard at work rearining their booths and getting them up in time for this afternoon by which time it was expected that the Fair would be in full swing and suffering by no means from the late arrival and the consequently late start.

A round of the exhibition halls started this morning before the judges had started their task revealed buildings filled with interesting exhibits. The Merchants Building includes booths by many of Danville's best known merchants while societies and organizations have prepared attractive exhibits. There are several novelties in this building. The American Legion as an exhibit showing results from the war loaned for this occasion by the owners, members of the Danville Post-American Legion and other memberships to the Danville Post will be signed up. The city engineer has devised a telling tool with the assistance of the Chamber of Commerce this showing causes of fires which is being stressed during the present nationwide campaign. There is a model chimney and flue showing how it should be built and there are specimens of iron fuel prepared through rust taken from Danville buildings and pointed out as a menace to life and property. One of these flues was removed from a building where a fire took place last week and which momentarily at least endangered lives of more than fifty persons.

The Agricultural building was filled and ready for the judges on schedule.

from Lake Okeechobee, upon whose edge the city lies. State and local officials have been watching the water level of the lake for some weeks, anticipating a rise. Numbers of other little towns ring the lakes the edge.

DRUGGISTS ARE AGAINST PRESENT LIQUOR LAWS

(By The Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Oct. 8.—Claiming that their business had come into considerable dispute since the government forced them to undertake distribution of liquor for medicinal purposes, delegates attending the 49th annual convention of the National Wholesaler Druggists' Association prepared to recommend congressional actions to remedy what they believe to be faults of the present federal laws. The convention opened today and will close Thursday with the election of officers.

The druggists also want a uniform narcotic drug law in all the states.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made

Here's an easy way to save $2, and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? When you do, you will understand why thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly live without it. It's so simple and cheap, but the day it takes hold of a cough will make earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 24 ounces of Pine, then add plain granulated sugar to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a real pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, horse-nose, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pine is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norwegian pine extract and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments. To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pine" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pine Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

TRAVELING IN EUROPE

This letter written from Paris to Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Fitzgerald, by their daughter, Miss Lucy Lee Fitzgerald, who with her sister, Miss Martha Fitzgerald, and aunt, Mrs. T. J. Fitzgerald, has been traveling abroad for several months, continues a most interesting account of their travels. This extract from the letter, giving a graphic description of the battlefields as they appear today will be particularly interesting to the many friends of Miss Fitzgerald.

The letter follows:

We left Paris about 7:30 a.m. on the train for Rheims, with a party of nine. We reached Rheims at eleven o'clock and immediately got in the sightseeing bus which was very comfortable.

First we saw the Cathedral. More than 125,000 shells fell on it so you can imagine what it looked like. We went on to Verdun for the night and found that battered and torn too, though they seem to be doing some building and repairing. We spent the night there and came back to Rheims by a different route next day, first visiting several of the fort in Verdun, especially Fort de Vaux, which was one of the two taken by the Germans. They were never able to take the others.

We are leaving for Brussels, Amsterdam and England tomorrow.

Rooms Registry—Nurses Registry—Employment Bureau.

The business office, the clearing house for so many odds and ends of the Y. W. C. A. program is growing busier day by day. Phone calls to the number of sixty a day mean constant interruption to a full day. Those who have rooms registered at the Y. W. C. A. will notify the office when their rooms are vacant this would be greatly appreciated by the business secretary, Miss Ruffin. The Nurses' Registry is proving a very valuable asset to the community. If the nurses registered will advise the office the moment they are off duty this would be a great service the boy secretary would appreciate. The Y. W. C. A. exists but to serve not only the girls but the entire community and it desires to serve as efficiently as possible.

Hostess Room at Fair.

Many visitors at the Danville Fair for the past two years will remember the attractive little hostess room in charge of the Y. W. C. A. Many girls and women found the little room a real haven of rest. This year through the kindness of the Fair Association a larger space has been given the Y. W. C. A. and Mrs. Hinchcliffe together with the staff of secretaries is planning a very attractive and useful room in the Merchants Building. A cordial welcome is extended to make the little room a meeting place for the young men and women either to rest or to meet friends for a chat. Those in charge of the room will make themselves familiar with the detail of the fair to the Y. W. C. A. room will also serve as a bureau of information.

Reichstag Turns To Economic and Financial Matters

Seek to Continue Negotiations With Occupation Officials and Longer Working Hours for German Workers—Stinnes Headed Delegation.

(By The Associated Press.)
BERLIN, Oct. 9.—Having given Chancellor Stresemann a vote of confidence in the face of opposition by the nationalists, the communists and the Bavarian peoples' party, the Reichstag today considers the measures that govern the extraordinary authority in dealing with economic and financial problems.

The bill was approved yesterday at Reichswser or the imperial council.

Chancellor Stresemann's victory in obtaining a vote of confidence was strengthened by the rejection of a motion to abolish the state of emergency in the Reich and in Bavaria and by the passage of a socialist resolution endorsing the government constitutionally toward "exceptional matters in Bavaria."

There was a turbulent scene in the Reichstag yesterday, when Count Westarp, the German nationalist, criticizing the central government demanded a breach of relations with "France with all its consequences." Westarp's supporters applauded and shouted "war" which called forth a demonstration in opposition from the left.

Hugo Stinnes writing in the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, his own newspaper, expresses the opinion that Germany would have been better served by a cabinet of non-partisan experts than by the reconstructed coalition ministry, which he feels, may not have sufficient authority to accomplish needed reforms.

Charges Broker Won $22,500 From Him On 1919 Series

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—E. M. Fuller of the bankrupt brokerage firm of E. M. Fuller and Company won $22,500 from him on the third game of the 1919 world series. Arnold Rothstein, alleged gambler, testified yesterday at the Fuller-McGee bucketshop investigation before Referees Coffin.

Rothstein, who has been ordered to answer the questions next Monday, made this statement after Wm. Chadbourne, attorney representing Fuller creditors, had sought to link the White Sox scandal with the Fuller case.

Referee Coffin warned Rothstein several times because of his attitude and answers in reply to Chadbourne's questions about the witness acquaintance with Abe Attell, J. J. Sullivan and others who have been mentioned in the baseball scandal.

Rothstein admitted that he knew Attell and Sullivan but denied that he ever talked with either concerning the series. The witness denied that he had paid William J. Fallon, lawyer, $26,000 to represent him because of threats made against him by Attell.

He reminded Chadbourne that a Chicago grand jury which investigated the series had exonerated him.

Mate of Norwegian Ship Lost Overboard During Storm

(By The Associated Press.)
NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Oct. 9.—The Norwegian steamer Jethou, which arrived last night from Christiansia via England reported that the third mate, Arne Weeler, was washed overboard while discharging his duties during the storm. It was reported when the ship arrived here. He was 23 years old and citizen of Norway.

The ship attempted to locate the mate but was unable to do so and had to proceed without him.

Captain W. Hennichson, master of the Jethou reported that the storm, which lasted two days, was one of the most violent he had ever encountered in all his many years of life on the sea. His ship, a sturdy freighter, was tossed about like a cockleshell while a titanic sea was sweeping and crashing over her decks just as if she had been canoe adrift. The storm blew all during the first and second of October, never abating its fury.

The Jethou was from Christiania to Charleston and Havana with a cargo, consisting partly of dried fish. She is being surveyed and probably will be repaired in stream, owing to the fact that the nature of the cargo will permit no delay.

Discussions of Imperial Meet Are Kept Secret

(By The Associated Press.)
LONDON, Oct. 9.—The imperial conference discussed British foreign affairs for more than five hours yesterday in the light of Foreign Secretary Curzon, and at the end of the day decided to tell nothing of what transpired at the session. The resultant crop of rumors must await verification until the end of the week when it is understood a report will be issued.

Publicity was withheld at the request of the British government, according to the Daily Telegraph's diplomatic correspondent who understands that the dominion premiers only consented to the maintenance of secrecy for a few days pending Lord Curzon's reply to their criticisms and suggestions.

A general agreement on the publication has not been reached by Friday, the premiers will use their own discretion as to what they will divulge, the writer adds.

The decision for secrecy, says the Daily Mail, was the outcome of very plainly speaking on the part of the premiers and other imperial spokesmen. The newspaper says they contend that the government should bring the reparations question to a head as little delay as possible.

The conference adjourned until Thursday.

Gen. Oglethorpe's Body Be Exhumed

(By The Associated Press.)
CRANHAM, England, Oct. 8.—Within a fortnight the body of General James E. Oglethorpe, will be en route to the state he founded in America, if the excavations which are to begin here tomorrow are successful.

Dr. Thornwell Jacobs, president of Oglethorpe University, today was granted final authority from Chancellor Ernest Childs of the Diocese of Chelmsford for the exhumation of the body of the famous English colonist and his wife, who have lain in the little parish church for more than 150 years. In granting the petition for disinterment which was made by Oglethorpe University, backed by the governor of Georgia, the mayor of Atlanta and the American government, the chancellor said it was a highly honorable and noble motive on the part of the people of Georgia to seek to have the dust of their illustrious founder and first governor reinterred in the soil of the great commonwealth to which he consecrated his life and fortune.

Evidently alluding to the recent unsuccessful efforts to locate the bones of the Indian Princess Pocahontas, which aroused some adverse criticism in England, the chancellor said that the present enterprise was not a private one but was backed by the highest American authorities and based upon the most patriotic and laudable grounds.

He pointed out to the little group of parishioners who had gathered in the church of All Saints, in the chancel of which General Oglethorpe and his wife are buried, that during the exhumation no other grave would be disturbed, as the excavation would be confined to a space eight feet square which, a tablet on the wall of the church had definitely established, contained the bodies sought.

CHIEF IS FLOGGED.
(By The Associated Press.)

MARION, Ills., Oct. 8.—Monroe Owens, chief of police of Pittsburg, near here, was flogged by prisoners in the county jail here yesterday, it was said. Owens said he had been handcuffed to a cell and given 25 lashes with a cat-o-nine tails, but employees of Sheriff Gallan denied Owens had been handcuffed, although they admitted some lashes had been administered.

Priest On Way To Assist Slayer; Wife Faces Embezzlement Charge

(By The Associated Press.)

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 9.—A message picked up by the Federal Telegraph Company here at 4:30 a. m. in the Motorship Kennecott, a cargo carrier of 6,000 deadweight tons, reported herself "high and dry on rocks" at a point near the boundary between Alaska and British Columbia. Owned by the Alaska Steamship Company, the Kennecott carries a crew of 20.

The steamship Western was reported rushing to the Kennecott's assistance from an unknown position.

The Kennecott was en route to Seattle from the orient via Alaska.

The passenger steamer Queen is anchored near the point where the Kennecott grounded, with a cracked cylinder. She carries a crew of 45 and is believed to have comparatively few passengers.

New Conditions Are Asked By a Group Of Industrialists

(By The Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—Detectives with warrants charging embezzlement waited today for Rev. Nicholas Strutynsky, Greek Catholic Priest of Ramey, Pennsylvania, en route here to assist his wife, held for grand jury action in connection with the death of Rev. Basil Stetsuk, who was shot and killed Sunday in the presence of the congregation of the Greek Catholic Church of Michael, the archangel. Rev. Strutynsky, formerly was pastor of St. Nicholas Greek Catholic Church here and was succeeded by Rev. Stetsuk. Mrs. Strutynsky originally told the police she had shot Father Stetsuk because he had accused her husband of misappropriating church funds. Her husband is under indictment for embezzlement of $50,000, which it is said he put into a church building fund. Friends of the slain pastor obtained warrants and sent detectives to meet Father Strutynsky.

Good Morning Judge!

An unusually brief docket confronted Mayor Woodring in the police court this morning, only four warrants being disposed of.

Buster Hall, colored, drew a fine of $5.00 and costs for operating a machine without a chauffeur's license and an additional $1.00 and costs for not having a city permit to drive.

Fines of $21.00 and costs were imposed in Bertha Davis and Leroy Chaney on statutory charges.

H. C. Smith was assessed $1.00 and costs for trespassing on the property of the Southern Railway.

Friend of Slain Nurse Will Be Further Quizzed

(By The Associated Press.)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 9.—Walter Haile, a close friend of Miss Elsa Barthel, a nurse, who was slain early Sunday in the Old Hussey Mansion, was to be further questioned today. Alexander Savage, noted Negro doctor, is alleged to have confessed to killing the nurse by striking her with a brick when she refused him payment for "curing her love.

Detectives admit there is no tangible evidence on which to hold Haile, but the finding of two of Miss Barthel's handkerchiefs in his pocket and alleged discrepancies of his stories told before and after Savage's arrest have caused his detention. Police are also investigating Savage's story that he entered a taxicab driven by Haile after leaving the scene of the slaying.

Will Continue To Probe Webb Case

Ralph Peters, Head Of L. I. Railway, Expires Suddenly

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Ralph Peters, president of the Long Island Railroad died suddenly at his home in Garden City today. Mr. Peters had been president of the railroad for 18 years and was to have retired November 19. He was 70 years old.

Several days ago he developed a cold, from which he was believed to be recovering. He arose today at 6 a. m. his usual hour, but was stricken almost immediately afterward.

He was a native of Atlanta, Georgia, and was graduated from the University of Georgia in 1872. He became interested in railroading early in life and shortly after his graduation from college was made superintendent and purchasing agent of the Atlanta Street Railways. Later he became superintendent of the Logansport division of the Panhandle system, then superintendent of the Little Miami division and occupied a number of important offices of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

He became general manager and president of the Long Island Railroad in 1905 and was head of 18 subsidiary lines of the Long Island. During this period he was instrumental in building up the system which has become one of the greatest interurban lines in the east.

The jury asked that Charles H. Webb, husband of the wealthy society woman, be given an opportunity to tell his side of the story. He was invited to appear tomorrow.

A new development in content was made with reference to Mrs. Webb's will, which was left by Mrs. Webb was contained in the statement issued by Colonel Kingsbury, chief counsel for Mr. Webb who declared if his client lost any of the will, he will get more than the estate than if he won it. He explained this by pointing out that if the ten line will which left all to Mr. Webb and which is being contested by the dead woman's relatives, were broken, the will made before Mrs. Webb's marriage would automatically become legal. The fact that this will was made before marriage would give Mr. Webb a right to half the estate under the state laws, he said.

While Mr. Webb would receive half the estate under the document the contestants are trying to uphold, he would receive a much smaller fraction under the ten line will, as he filed a statement that in this short will were upheld, he would carry out all the bequests made in a third will which was left unsigned. This last document left large amounts to charity.

"The Giants were good enough to beat the Reds and I believe they can also take the Yankees into camp," said August Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati club.

Investigation Will Be Carried on Despite Finding That Poison Found in Body Was Not Sufficient to Cause Death.

(By The Associated Press.)

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 9.—The Westchester county grand jury will continue its investigation into the death of Mrs. Gertrude German Webb, wealthy New York and Philadelphia social woman, despite the fact that medical experts testified yesterday that sufficient poison had not been found in the body to have caused death.

After the seven doctors had finished their testimony, it was stated on good authority that District Attorney Rowland suggested that the investigation be dropped. The jury, however, demanded that more witnesses be summoned.

The jury asked that Charles H. Webb, husband of the wealthy society woman, be given an opportunity to tell his side of the story. He was invited to appear tomorrow.

A new development in content was made with reference to Mrs. Webb's will, which was left by Mrs. Webb was contained in the statement issued by Colonel Kingsbury, chief counsel for Mr. Webb who declared if his client lost any of the will, he will get more than the estate than if he won it. He explained this by pointing out that if the ten line will which left all to Mr. Webb and which is being contested by the dead woman's relatives, were broken, the will made before Mrs. Webb's marriage would automatically become legal. The fact that this will was made before marriage would give Mr. Webb a right to half the estate under the state laws, he said.

While Mr. Webb would receive half the estate under the document the contestants are trying to uphold, he would receive a much smaller fraction under the ten line will, as he filed a statement that in this short will were upheld, he would carry out all the bequests made in a third will which was left unsigned. This last document left large amounts to charity.

"The Giants were good enough to beat the Reds and I believe they can also take the Yankees into camp," said August Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati club.

Danish "Walter Camp" Introduces Perfect Body Creed To Americans.

NIELS BUKH AND TWO OF HIS PUPILS, MARGRETHE STOUNBERG (LEFT) AND KAREN WEST ERDAL

A "Walter Camp" has come out of Denmark to imbue Americans with his creed—that of the perfect human race—a creed that has swept over the Scandinavian countries to them.

He is Niels Buhk, whose one thought is the building of a perfect body controlled by a clean, wholesome mind.

So successful has been Buhk's form of training that the Danish government has adopted his system for its army and schools. Sweden, Norway and Finland have also taken it up, and other European countries have invited him to demonstrate the system to their peoples.

Buhk now is in the United States, under the auspices of the Playground and Recreation Association of America, with 20 of his pupils to demonstrate his system to the public.

The Bee, through NEA Service, has taken advantage of his stay and asked him to give to the benefit of NEA training in a series of daily articles. The first of this series follows:

BY NIELS BUKH
(Special to The Bee)

WITH the system of gymnastics that I employ, I am not only trying to develop the perfect human race but to instill in Europe a new idea—the idea of self-expression, to individualism.

Heretofore the sole end of physical training in Europe has been to create better soldiers.

I am trying to get a new viewpoint—that gymnastics can be of aid in individual competitive games, in the daily routine of life.

My one aim is the development of the perfect human body, strong in all its parts, and subordinate to a mind tuned to the better things of life.

OUR ERROR.

America has always ranked first in competitive games. But I believe that America's physical training has been too one-sided.

A runner developed only his legs and his wind. A baseball pitcher, his throwing arm.

The question that enters my mind is whether they would not be far better in their chosen lines of endeavor if they had first laid the foundation of a perfect body before attempting specialization in one sport.

FINLAND, I believe, illustrates my point. My system of training is widespread in that country, practically the entire population taking it up.

WHAT is the result?

HIGH RECORD.

Finland, a country with 8,000,000 people, ran second to America, a country of 100,000,000, in the 1920 Olympic games. Such populous countries as England and France were dianced.

IN the development of the perfect body, I work for three things—suppleness, strength and co-ordination of mind and body.

First I develop suppleness. Then when the muscles are limbered up and their use is easy, I start in to strengthen them.

THE final step in the training is the perfect subordination of the muscles to the commands of the mind.

TOMORROW: How to attain suppleness.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9.—Refusal by Federal Judge Thompson yesterday to grant temporary injunctions to close six Schuylkill county saloons was the latest development in the campaign instituted by federal and state authorities to drive the saloons from Pennsylvania.

Judge Thompson based his refusal, which was final, on a technicality. Notice of the hearing had not been served on the saloon men and since the United States Supreme court had refused to issue injunctions under similar circumstances, the judge declared he would follow that precedent.

LLOYD GEORGE THINKS HOPE OF SETTLEMENT LIES IN HUGHES PLAN

(By The Associated Press)

MONTREAL, Oct. 8.—Secretary Hughes' proposal, made nearly a year ago, for the appointment of a commission of experts to determine Germany's capacity to pay reparations, was declared by David Lloyd George tonight to be "absolutely the best hope of the settlement of reparations."

The former British premier made this assertion when shown press dispatches from Washington which stated that high American administration officials believed it was not too late for acceptance of the plan. He said after he had delivered his first public address in Canada in which he expressed his gratitude for the resolute and unhesitating part which the Dominion played in the world war.

Commenting on Secretary Hughes' plan, Mr. Lloyd George said:

"In my opinion this plan is not too late for consideration and it is absolutely the best hope of settlement of reparations. Of course, since the plan was first broached the ability of Germany to pay is much less. The greater the delay the closer the situation approaches chaos. I hope serious consideration of Mr. Hughes' plan may be taken up even at this late date and I repeat that it is the best hope of a successful settlement."

The Washington press dispatches indicated that in official opinion there may acceptance of the plan would result in France.

British war premier spoke this afternoon to an audience which crowded the Mount Royal Arena, with its seating capacity of 10,000 to the doors. He declared, with ringing eloquence, that Canada in the great war was "tried practically for the first time on a great scale in that burning, scorching crucible, and she came out pure and refined gold."

"Canada had to enter into an examination of her qualities," he continued, "in a competition and a conflict with the most virile races in the world, the strongest, the most tested, the most dominant races and it was a searching test for a new nation. She passed through all these fiery trials."

The treaty of Versailles may have its defects, it is now in the testing. It may succeed or conceivably, if it may fail, but for Canada, it has one great enduring value, it is a certificate of nationhood signed by practically all the great nations of the earth, friend and foe alike, after four and one-half years of trial. It is therefore a charter for Canada."

The arena meeting was the only formal function attended by Mr. Lloyd George today. In the morning he was taken on an automobile trip through the city. At the city hall, he was made a citizen of Montreal and was given a gold key to the city.

In the evening he attended a dinner given in his honor by Lord Shaughnessy, chairman of the board of the Canadian Pacific Railroad.

Although fatigued yesterday after a strenuous program in the United States, the distinguished visitor appeared in excellent health and spirits today and even a slight hoarseness did not prevent his speaking at the mass meeting for nearly an hour, at times with fiery eloquence. Applause and cheers swept the hall repeatedly as he proceeded.

Mr. Lloyd George was introduced by General Sir Arthur Currie, principal of McGill University and commander in chief of the Canadian forces in France during the world war, as one "whose name is a household word, one of our own kindred, who symbolizes for us the sound Democracy of which our empire and our dominion so proudly boasts."

MASSONS TO HOLD BIG CENTENNIAL

(By The Associated Press)

JOHNSTON CITY, Tenn., Oct. 8.—Rhea Lodge, No. 47, Free and Accepted Masons, of Jonesboro, Tennessee, said to be the oldest Masonic lodge in the State with a record of continuous existence, will commemorate 100 years of activity tomorrow. A public program will be held in the courthouse, addressed by George L. Hardwick, state grand master of Tennessee, and Phil T. Taylor, a member of the lodge, and a fraternal meeting will be held in the evening at the lodge rooms.

Rhea Lodge was chartered on October 9, 1922, the charter being signed by Andrew Jackson, then grand master of Tennessee, and is said to be the only charter in this region signed by the former president of the United States.

The lodge has a unique record of participation in national events. It holds a receipt for a contribution to the building of the Washington monument with its architectural design showing the original plans to have been for a lower building, surrounded by colonnades and satires. Records show a contribution of fifty dollars for Civil War relief at Lynchburg, Virginia hospital and a school known as Martin's Academy was wholly supported by the lodge for some years just prior to the War between the States.

The lodge officiated at the laying of the corner stones of the two court houses built in different centuries on the same spot in Jonesboro, the oldest town west of the Alleghenies; the first in 1845, when the stone was procured by John P. Chester, a past master of the lodge, for the sum of six dollars and the physical work of placing it was done by members.

The other was laid for the present courthouse in 1912, the charter being signed by Andrew Jackson, then grand master of Tennessee, and is said to be the only charter in this region signed by the former president of the United States.

THE DANVILLE FAIR OPENS.

Danville welcomes a host of neighbors to its annual agricultural Fair which opens today and which will continue through Friday night and at which will be seen the bountiful fruits of the earth which can be raised on the average farm in the Piedmont region. To the townsman these exhibits bring home sharply the thought that the toil of the farmer is constant all the year round and that life in the open spaces of this section does not merely imply the raising of a tobacco and a corn crop and its subsequent marketing but calls for a continual diligence and application in raising, harvesting and preserving the lesser though equally necessary crops. To the farmer the Fair does not present such aspects but arouses an interest in comparisons and offers opportunities for promoting larger success in the absorbing field of agriculture.

Danville has a good Fair this year—one which may be visited profitably by the people of this community and those of the surrounding section. It affords not only an opportunity for instruction but one for the sweeping away of cares and the enjoyment of the lighter amusements which are offered. The Fair above all is a home institution, one which is inspired by no thought of pecuniary gain but by the thought that it may be helpful in solidifying the ties which bind the city with the country.

NORTH DANVILLE'S CEMETERY NEEDS.

The community will look confidently for some early settlement of the vexing cemetery problem in North Danville when the Council holds its monthly meeting tomorrow. For more than two years it has been apparent that residents of that part of the community were in growing need of adequate facilities for the interment of their relatives and now a situation has been reached where it is imperative that some step be taken without further delay. The fact that the generosity of owners of burial squares in that cemetery has been depended on recently for interments in Leavenworth cemetery and the additional fact that approximately 25 bodies will have to be disinterred and moved, since they now rest on borrowed land should prove an incentive to immediate action. The cemetery situation has to no means been forgotten and it has on several occasions been presented to the council but there has been disagreement among its members as to the location of a number of pieces of property which were available. The council committee which has charge of this matter is preparing to make a concrete recommendation tomorrow night a large tract of land being available at that point where the Chatham road strikes branches off to the right. This property lies on the hard road and thus will be approachable in all weather, therefore needing no expenditure in preparing an avenue. If educators are to be raised to its distance from the city it should be recalled that sufficient sites have been carefully sought and that after a careful survey of the best situation this has been found to be the best property. It has been found impossible to find a tract which would include every desirable quality and in view of the pressing need for definite action these facts should be carefully considered in contemplating the committee's recommendations.

UNDER YOUR FEET.

Charles Darwin found 53,000 "fish-worms" in the average acre of British soil. The number was around half a million an acre where the soil was exceptionally rich.

Right now is the busiest season of the year for earth-worms. Wherever the autumn winds are making withered leaves flutter to the earth, our old friends fishworms are dragging the dead leaves into their tunnels, there to rot and enrich the soil. Professor J. Arthur Thomson, in "The Outline of Science," records that, on the average, the fishworms in an acre of ground pass 10 tons of soil through their bodies each year—and they have been doing this for many millions of years. They cover the surface at the rate of three inches in 15 years and they are thus continually circulating the soil. An age-long ploughing field, which was so thickly covered with hard flints that it was known as The Stony Field, was left untouched for 30 years, after which a horse could gallop from one end to the other without ever striking a stone." Darwin wrote this. "The plough is one of the most ancient and most valuable of man's inventions; but long before he existed the land was, in fact, regularly ploughed by earthworms. It may be doubted whether there are many other animals which have played so important a part in the history of the earth as have these lowly organized creatures." The earthworm made life on earth possible for man. We couldn't continue existing without its assistance at preparing the soil for the food we eat and for the trees so chemically necessary in our system of air supply. Despite the earthworm's important function in nature's scheme of things, a lot of us are surprised to learn that it has a purpose other than to be used as fish bait.

POISON NOT SUFFICIENT TO CAUSE DEATH IN WEBB CASE SAYS EXPERT

(By The Associated Press) WHITEL PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 8.—Any suspicion which may have attached to Charles Webb, husband of Mrs. Gertrude Gorman—Webb has been "thoroughly blown up," Colonel Howard Thayer Kingsbury, chief counsel for Mr. Webb, declared after Webb had appeared today before the grand jury investigating the circumstances surrounding Mrs. Webb's death at the Westchester-Biltmore Country Club at Rye two weeks ago.

"My impression," he said, "is that any suspicion that may have been directed against Mr. Webb in this case has been thoroughly blown up since the grand jury began its investigation."

Colonel Kingsbury declared newspaper explanations of the contest of Mrs. Webb's will which left her entire estate to her husband had failed to point out that Mr. Webb would benefit rather than lose if the contestants won their case.

With the second will which is being contested, he said, Mr. Webb filed a third, unsigned will and statement sworn to by him whereby he promised to carry out the second will strict accordance with the extra provisions of the third will. The second will, Colonel Kingsbury said, left the entire estate to Mr. Webb but the third made specific bequests which reduced his share to about one-fourth of the entire estate.

Colonel Kingsbury declared that if the contestants of the second will won their case and if the first will which did not mention Mr. Webb was accepted for probate, Webb would be entitled to half of the estate under a state law which provides that a husband is entitled to half his wife's estate if a will, not mentioning him, is made before her marriage.

"But," Colonel Kingsbury declared,

"Mr. Webb does not want to be beaten. What he wants to do is to carry out the great public plan of his wife and to carry out the great memorial to her mother provided for in her will."

Dr. William J. Meyers, the physician who refused to sign Mrs. Webb's death certificate, on emerging from the grand jury room where he had been a witness for an hour and a half, said he had explained why he had excluded Mr. Webb from his wife's sick room.

"I reiterated to the grand jury," he said, "that neither I nor any other physician who had attended Mrs. Webb had at any time given her any mercury in any form. I also told them that none of us had administered any narcotic to her."

Dr. Alexander O. Goettler, toxicologist of Bellevue Hospital, who examined parts of the body, read to the jury the report of his findings, which, it was understood showed, that some poison was found in the body but not in sufficient quantity to cause death without contributory causes.

Dr. K. Sellers, Kennard, and Dr. T. A. Gonzales, New York specialists, who performed the autopsy on Mrs. Webb's body, also were witnesses.

During the day a number of Mrs. Webb's friends, nurses and doctors who had attended her, and persons to whom Mr. Webb had spoken after his wife's death, were heard. All of them were ordered to reappear when the grand jury resumes its investigation tomorrow.

Credentials of William F. Dunne Revoked Monday

(By The Associated Press)

PORLTAND, Ore., Oct. 8.—The American Federation of Labor in convention here today revoked the credentials of Wm. F. Dunne, of Butte, Montana, central labor council, as a delegate in an spirited session during which Dunne was characterized by speakers as a "traitor to organized labor" on account of his alleged activities as a communist.

Following the unseating of Dunne, the convention rejected three resolutions proposing that unions be consolidated along lines of industries instead of crafts—the one big union idea. The report charged that those who favor amalgamation aim at the destruction of organized labor.

Dunne was the author of amalgamation resolutions. The executive council's report denouncing "usurpation of government" by the Ku Klux Klan was unanimously approved in a resolution adopted. It called upon trade unionists to beware of the organization as a "menace to American government." A copy of the report on the Ku Klux Klan was ordered sent to each local organization in the federation.

The convention adopted a resolution denouncing the fascists movement.

The vote on the resolution unseating Dunne brought to issue the conservative and radical elements of the convention. It was taken after several hours of discussion in which Dunne was denounced by Matthew V. Woll, a vice president of the American Federation and Wm. Green, secretary-treasurer of the United Mineworkers of America. Dunne himself replied to the attacks and hurled defiance at the convention.

A resolution declaring for limitation of the power of the supreme court of the United States and election of federal judges for definite terms was adopted today.

The stand of the railway shopmen in the strike last year was approved.

Elimination of the railway labor board, which was characterized by many as undemocratic, was demanded in another resolution.

ARCHDEACON OF CHURCH KILLS HIMSELF IN HOTEL

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 8.—The body of the Rev. John E. Jones, 47, of Hutchinson, Kansas, was found in a room in a local hotel late today. Police said that he had committed suicide by shooting himself and had been dead ten hours when his body was found.

The Rev. Jones recently was archdeacon of the Southwestern Kansas Episcopal area, formerly was superintendent of missions at Omaaha and pastor of churches at Chicago and other cities.

In a letter addressed to My Dear Mary and children, the clergymen said:

"I am well in body and mind but sick in heart and soul and have decided to go 'beyond the valley.'

In a note accompanying the letter Mr. Jones said his wife and children were somewhere in New York. His wife, he said, was known on the stage as Pauline Laverne. Mary Tupper Jones or Mary Tupper.

Stinnes Attacks Stresemann Thru His Own Paper

(By The Associated Press)
BERLIN, Oct. 8.—Virtually accusing Chancellor Stresemann of having "cribbed" the cardinal features his "more production" programme, and contemptuously dissipating the legend that he was seeking the dictatorship of Germany, Hugo Stinnes has buckled on his journalistic armor to the extent of utilizing 2 columns of his personal organ, the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, to reveal the incidents which precipitated the government crisis last week, and the part he played therein.

Incidentally, Herr Stinnes dispenses with the current impression that divided German People's party caused the chancellor's temporary downfall. Herr Stinnes cited the party caucus held October 5 at which Dr. Stresemann was present and which unanimously adopted a resolution whose text, Herr Stinnes asserts, was drawn up by himself and the chancellor in which the entire Reichstag delegation of the industrialists' party demanded the abolition of all restrictions that would tend to hamper a return to peace time production.

Chancellor Stresemann's failure to obtain the consent of the other coalition parties to this resolution precipitated the crisis, according to Herr Stinnes, who declared:

"I hereby affirm that all that so-called 'Stinnes dictatorship' aspired to meet with the complete Scherzerence of Dr. Stresemann and the entire People's party represented in the Reichstag the forepart of last week, although it refused to become entangled in the subsequent fluctuation of opinions and political confusions."

Herr Stinnes expressed doubt whether the resurrected Stresemann coalition government possesses sufficient mandatory authority to effect rapid and decisive reforms, and believes that a non-partisan cabinet of economic leaders chosen on a basis of their actual accomplishments in industry, finance and commerce and unfettered by parliamentary intervention, would have held out the promise of tangible achievements.

By way of refuting the charge that the coal syndicate was exploiting Germany, Herr Stinnes cites a resolution adopted by the coal producers at a meeting held at Unna-Koepigeborn September 30, at which the whole range of problems affecting the production of coal was discussed and an agreement reached that the price at the mines must be driven down to a point estimated at 2½ gold marks per ton which, in the present world market cost, in order to permit German manufacturing and export industries to compete with the world markets. This producers say could be accomplished only through increased actual working hours, the reduction of wages and elimination of the coal tax and other assessments, while now preclude competition abroad for the entire range of German manufacturing industries in addition to barring coal itself as an export commodity.

Stinnes believes that a man equipped with far reaching dictatorial authority would devote three years of concentrated effort to the task not only of getting Germany back on her feet but in registering progress over peace time levels besides.

LABOR CALLED ON TO UNSEAT WILLIAM DUNNE

(By The Associated Press)

PORLAND, Ore., Oct. 8.—American Federation of Labor was called upon today to unseat William F. Dunne, delegate of the Butte, Montana, labor council. The demand was made by Matthew Woll, vice president of the federation, after reading to the convention a report of attacks made last night by Dunne at a mass meeting.

Woll's declaration against Dunne followed presentation of a report which severely arraigned the Federated press for alleged dissemination of communist propaganda. William G. Green, general treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America, followed Woll in denouncing Dunne, whom he said had proven conclusively that "he is among us and against us," "who is a communist who circulated the devitalizing doctrine that emanates from a foreign country."

"Throw him out," cried one of the delegates on the floor. Green denounced those who mingled with trade unionists and who were communists at heart and he read a report charging activities of Dunne in the coal strike in the spring of 1922, in Pennsylvania, which he charged were inimical to the miners union.

Green read headlines, articles and editorials of the Butte Bulletin of which Dunne is editor.

Green charged these utterances were a detriment to the miners' union in the Pennsylvania strike. The strike at Herrin, Illinois. He asserted that all the charges by Dunne, whom he dubbed as "the representative of the communist party" were unfounded.

After a heated debate on a motion to unseat Dunne, the convention adopted a resolution attacking the Federated press which was pending. The Dunne motion was presented. Before the convention could vote on the Dunne resolution it adjourned for the noon recess.

British Press Favors 12 Mile Limit In Treaty

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Expressions in British newspapers recently favorable to the acceptance by Great Britain of the 12-mile limit treaty plan proposed by Secretary Hughes to combat liquor smuggling into the United States has caught the attention of officials here. The scope is entertainment conference will result in the decision to comply with Secretary Hughes' suggestion, it was emphasized today that no authoritative indication has been received that such action would be taken.

Additional data in support of the American treaty plan for dealing simultaneously with rum smuggling and the inconveniences occasioned by British ships by enforcement of the Volstead Act has been laid before the British foreign office by Ambassador Harvey. In effect this is in answer to points made in the reply of the foreign office to the American proposal and were submitted prior to the meeting of the imperial conference in order that British officials might have a complete statement of the American viewpoint when the conference took up the question.

Great Britain's reply frankly stated that the foreign office was not favorably inclined toward the 12 mile limit of search and seizure proposal. The specific objections are not considered as insuperable from the Washington viewpoint. In the committee's consideration of the foreign office proposal by Mr. Harvey, therefore, it is understood that the American proposition was explained at greater length.

The chief British objection, so far as is known, is based on the fear that the plan might invade in some degree the rule of international law that recognizes the three mile line as the limit of territorial jurisdiction.

Green read headlines, articles and editorials of the Butte Bulletin of which Dunne is editor.

Green charged these utterances were a detriment to the miners' union in the Pennsylvania strike. The strike at Herrin, Illinois. He asserted that all the charges by Dunne, whom he dubbed as "the representative of the communist party" were unfounded.

Woman Slayer Is Held For Murder

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Mrs. Emily Strutynsky, wife of a priest of the American branch of the Greek Orthodox Church at Ramey, Pa., yesterday shot and instantly killed the Rev. Basil Stetsuk, minister of the Chicago church of which her husband formerly was pastor, was recommended held to the grand jury on a charge of murder, by the county jury which today investigated the slaying.

Mrs. Strutynsky killed the Rev. Stetsuk after she had been admitted to confessional at St. Michael church where Rev. Stetsuk was conducting mass.

An angry and excited crowd milled about the undertaking room where the inquest was to have been held and Mrs. Strutynsky, frightened, appealed to the officers for protection when the crowd became threatening. A hurried order for police reserves brought several patrol wagons to the scene, and when the excited crowd dispersed the inquest was transferred to a police station.

Mrs. Strutynsky took the witness stand at the inquest but was asked nothing except her name and place of residence. Other witnesses told of how the woman, heavily veiled had entered the church, expressed a desire to make a confession, had waited for some time until the Rev. Stetsuk arrived, and then walked down the main aisle to the confession box. She shot the priest through the head as she knelt before him, witnesses said, and fired other shots at him as he staggered down the aisle and collapsed. Then walking calmly to the door of the church where two women were standing, the slayer said, according to witnesses: "Pardon me, ladies, but I wish to leave."

The women seized her. The Rev. Father Biologh, of the Liberal Greek Catholic Church of Youngtown, Ohio, who is a priest of the Greek Orthodox Church, who was used by Mrs. Strutynsky to kill the minister was one of the witnesses. He said Mrs. Strutynsky had visited his home in April and that she had seen him and asked him to allow her to take it. He consented he said.

"He is a hypocrite and a cheat, he killed him" the statement continued.

"I came to Chicago Friday to kill Dr. Stetsuk. I did it because he deceived people. I would not have killed if he were ordinary but he is a leader of men. I am sorry I did it in the church for I had no intention to hurt God or the people's feelings."

The people tonight were still undecided as to the motive for the slaying. Mrs. Strutynsky's original story that the Rev. Stetsuk, who succeeded her husband to the pastorate of St. Nicholas, had accused her husband of misappropriating church funds and driven him from Chicago was followed by other statements in which she said the Rev. Stetsuk was an enemy to the Ukrainians, she having come from there. According to the police they have learned that Mrs. Strutynsky's husband is under indictment for embezzlement of $50,000 which it is said he put into a church building fund.

TEXTILE LABOR UNIONS

BY W. W. THOMAS

ATLANTA, Oct. 8.—It is felt here that efforts by union leaders to unionize the workers of the textile mills of the south will be far harder than in New England. It is believed that welfare work, community interests, work of schools and churches and the fact that textile labor here is almost entirely of Anglo-Saxon origin, have built up a situation which union organizers will have difficulty in overcoming. Previous efforts to organize the workers have failed but it is recognized the situation has taken on a different aspect since the American Federation of Labor convention at Portland placed all organized labor behind the movement.

NEW YORK PRESSMAN'S STRIKE HAS PROVED VALUE OF NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING.

By C. L. ROYLE

(Copyright, 1923, by The Register)

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The stream of advertising, dammed back for a time by the pressmen's strike, has been running back full this week in the newspaper channels and has brought back with it the large part of accustomed volume of trade to the retail stores. Merchants, however, are still clamoring for more space than the publishers can allow them and are using all the pressure possible to obtain advantageous position.

New York newspapers are printing issues as large as mechanical facilities will permit. They are devoting all the space to advertising that established rates of newsmen and public and still are obliged to refuse a certain amount of the business offered them. One evening paper issued Friday the largest edition in its history, sixty pages. The largest edition of a morning paper since the strike started has been 44 pages with over 20 pages devoted to advertisements.

The effect of the curtailment of advertising on merchants is only now beginning to be fully realized. A survey of the larger advertisers by

ENFORCE LIQUOR
LAW IN TURKEY

(By the Associated Press)
CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 8.—Enforcement of the liquor prohibition law began today in Constantinople, the bars and liquor stores being sealed on orders from Angora. As the government recently announced a postponement of a month in the enforcement of the measure it is believed that its present action was taken to prevent a recurrence of the disorders here Saturday night.

COALITIONISTS WILL DISREGARD
WOOD'S MEASURES

(By the Associated Press)

MANILA Oct. 8.—Encouraged by the coalitionist victory in the recent Philippine election, leaders of that party declared today the insular legislature would adopt a non-cooperation policy, refusing to pass measures recommended by Governor General Leonard Wood in his forthcoming message.

The legislature, or at least the coalition majority, will disregard entirely all recommendations Governor General Wood may make in his message to that body. Representative De la Rosa, a coalitionist, announced
"We will not pass any measure that is not recommended by the council of state and has disregarded the advice of the departmental secretaries in preparing his message."

The French foreign office was obliged to put police observers in the theatre, and after viewing the performance the police suppressed the offending scene—ridiculing Great Britain's attitude on the reparations questions, declaring that the English are thinking only of their money and are forgetting the purposes and results of the war they fought with the French.

The British embassy's feelings are particularly hurt at the violence of the language used in the scene accusing the British of treachery. The scene was violently applauded as long as it ran, but it is not likely that the theatres will be allowed to express their feelings again, as Lord
Crewe's protest covers all similar episodes.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—We do not bearish but fear the possibility of a further downward reaction.

Henzel: For the present we do not anticipate anything more than technical recoveries; we cannot hope for a bull market until interest revives at the consuming end of the line.

Hubbard: So far the South has shown little disposition to become nervous over the market and is comparatively content to await the improvement which the fall must inevitably bring after the October movement has been taken care of.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Stock prices continued to yield selling pressure at the opening of today's market and the general list presented a reactionary tone. Oils were in free supply but the initial recessions were held to fractions. Baldwin, Studebaker and other so-called pivoted shares opened fractionally lower. Woolworth up 1 1/2 was one of the few strong pivots.

Heaviness of the oils was attributed in part to the announcement of cut in crude prices at the well by California Petroleum. Motors and motor accessories were again the targets of bear speculators, losses of 1 to 2 points being recorded by Nash, Chandler, Mack Truck, Bosch Magneto, Stewart Warner Speedometer Fisher Body, Willys-Overland, pfd. and Timkin Roller Bearing. American Ice dropped four points and Eastman Kodak and Foundation Company two each. Reading, Davison Chemical and Dupont each advanced about a point.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The cotton market was quiet during today's early trading with fluctuations comparatively narrow and irregular. On the other hand Liverpool made relatively steady showing and there was considerable covering.

MORNING STOCK LETTER

(Courtesy Thomson and McKinnon.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—(Continued) At frequent intervals prominent witnesses volunteer the information that we are prosperous. If so we would not need any witnesses, we would know it. We know that rents are very high and shoes and hats and clothing and everything else is very high; we know the cost of production is very high, we know that business is not as good as it was and we also know that it is not seasonal—with all due respect to Washington advises—because this is the season when business should expand. What is the matter? Why are people running away from the stock market? There are probably many reasons, but here is one of them. A calculation has been made as to the cost of the bonus law which is going to be passed by the next congress and it is going to cost very close to four billion dollars. Figure out for yourself what this means in taxes and its effect on investment.

New Touring Car

Looking at the new touring car from the side, you are at once favorably impressed with the effect of longer, more graceful lines secured by enlarging the cowl and raising the radiator.

Slanting windshield and one-man top lend material aid in giving the entire car a lower, more stylish appearance.

An apron connecting the radiator with the fender skirts is also a decided improvement.

A comfort feature much appreciated by owners, is the additional leg room provided by the enlargement of the cowl.

Allow the nearest Ford dealer to show you the entire line of new Ford cars now on display in his show room.
